

Automated Passport Control Kiosk

GCR's Automated Passport Control Kiosk expedites international passenger arrivals and minimizes the time spent with U.S. Customs and Border Protection officers.

The airport-specific branded, self-processing kiosk collects the passenger's passport and flight information, declaration data, takes a photo, issues a receipt to the passenger, and scans fingerprints. Passengers then take their passports and receipts to a CBP officer for verification. This program does not require passengers to register in advance.

- Unique, highly-visible design
